

Our ongoing programs include:

- weekly visits to the Robert C. Antonelli Senior Center
- alternating weeks at Home Sweet Home on the Hudson and the Eliot at Catskill, just started alternating weeks at Hearthstone Care Adult Day Center and In-home Care.
- Weekly visits from a group from the ARC. They assist in shredding, cleaning, watering plants and other things that need doing that staff may not have time for. They also usually do a craft while they are here.
- A High School Equivalency class and an English as a New Language class each meet weekly at the library.
- Narcan training
- Columbia Greene Workforce @ Catskill

Nothing new was scheduled

Possible Future Programs:

For the Walk With Ease program we are expecting to have in the spring, as a leader, I will be required to take CPR training. I have been attempting to schedule a class at the library for staff who have not yet received the training and also for the public. I'm still looking for someone willing to do it at an affordable price.

I will be starting a book club, probably in January or February in Catskill.

We will be giving away Cozy Kits to adults in January, which will include hot chocolate, tea, lip balm, candy and other cold weather-themed items.

I am trying to organize the collecting of people's old cell phones, laptops and/or other devices to give to an organization that can wipe them clean and donate them to those in need. For example, one organization is located in Oregon and cleans, refurbishes and then donates old cell phones to another that gives them to military personnel and their families. I am trying to find something more local and am waiting to hear back from a couple of sources.

Other:

I am preparing future postings for our website and Facebook page to highlight some of the databases and other sources we have with a lot of helpful information (like JobNow, which helps in all areas of job searches). When I scroll or click through, some of them are really great, but I do not think our patrons know they are there.

I am also working on a questionnaire for patrons that they can fill out if they are looking for suggestions for reading/listening/watching materials. They would fill it out and we would provide a few suggestions we think they might like.
